Fit The lasts used to make our shoes fit perfectly have been developed over the years with specialists. Together with both orthopaedists and last experts we have designed shoes which help alleviate all different sorts of foot problems.
For shoes to fit perfectly both length and proper width are crucial. Many of our models are designed to accommodate customised insoles.

Models All our products have been developed and designed with experts from specialised clinics, medical stores and orthopaedics as well as the experience of our customers.
Being light-weight, easy to put on and take off, our various models simply convince and impress our customers.
Worth mentioning is also the size of the Velcro fasteners which enable patients with impaired mobility to independently put on their shoes.

Sole We design our soles to be broad enough to allow patients with reduced mobility to move and stand safely. Due to the materials used, they are extremely light-weight and easy to adjust to personal needs by experts.
Falling back on our long-term experience with winter boots, the profile and material of our soles are slip-resistant, a characteristic feature which has been testified by PFI Germany, Testing and Research Institute Pirmasens e.V.
On account of their abrasive characteristics and their material, our soles can be worn outdoors.

Ecology Polyurethane (PU) which we use for our soles has outstanding ecological characteristics. It is absolutely free from CFCs thus not harming the ozone layer. Unlike other sole materials, PU burns without any dioxin and hydrochloric acid residues. As PU decomposes non-toxically, our shoes can be disposed of with one's household waste.

Quality and service We give a guarantee of the high quality of our brand Varomed®. As manufacturers producing in Germany we continuously check and monitor our products.
We aim to provide our patients with the products they need as quickly as possible. As almost all of our Varomed articles are in stock at all times we promise short-term delivery.
Many product are available in sizes 3-14.

Specialised retailers Our specialised retailers are our most important partners: without professional advice even the best shoe may be the wrong one for problem feet.

GTC - interesting for retailers The sending of samples and costs of postage and packing are topics we laid down in our general terms and conditions of business.
We kindly ask you to contact our website for further information.

Dear Sir or Madam,

Thank you for your interest in our products.

As a medium-sized shoe manufacturer in Cham in the east of Bavaria, we have been designing and manufacturing special shoes for people with special feet for sixty years.

Our range of Varomed® shoes encompasses a variety of models to suit sore, sensitive, bandaged or inflamed feet, caused by injuries, operations, deformities or illnesses from hallux valgus to peroneal paralysis. Read through our brochure to find out what we have to offer.

Our shoes are designed in close cooperation with experts from specialised clinics, medical stores and orthopaedics.

We also value your advice and suggestions for improvement - please feel free to contact us!

Mobility means a better quality of life: We aim to improve your mobility with our products thus improving your quality of life.

How to find the perfect fit

You have decided on a product from our catalogue but are not sure which size to take?

In order to find the perfect fit the first two digits of our product number are important.
If the product number is e.g. 31311, please refer to the table of product group 31 for fitting. Please measure your bare foot standing upright.

Step 1: Place your foot on a sheet of paper with the heel touching the spine of a book.
Draw the outline of your foot.

Step 2: Now measure the length of your foot from heel to toe, adding 5-7 mm to your figure. Then look for the next highest figure in table column a

Step 3: In order to measure the width of your foot, wrap the measuring tape around the broadest part of your foot. Look for the measured figure in table column e

Key with Explanations

Upper material

PURE LEATHER

Leather We employ high-quality, soft leather produced in Europe. This natural product is both breathable and extremely hard-wearing. Alongside nappa and velour leather, we also use highly versatile elk leather for some models.

VELCRO VELOURS

Velcro-velours with NANO waterproofing
This special surface structure with its tiny loops allows that Velcro fasteners can be attached even if there is no counterpart. Waterproofing has a water-resistant and dirt-repellent effect; at the same time colours are well preserved and the fabric is protected. This special kind of cloth is washable.

MICRO VELOURS

Micro-velours This material is characterised by its premium quality and easy-to-clean surface. Apart from that, micro-velour is both very soft and smooth and extraordinarily resilient.

MESH

Mesh material The mesh-like material is very adaptable, soft and breathable. This provides for a comfortable temperature regulation for hot feet. It is easy to clean and washable.

Imitation leather This soft, natural-looking, easily wipeable material is impervious to dirt, humidity and bodily fluids.

PIQUÉ

Piqué This light fabric with a waffle-like surface feels weightless and pleasant on the skin. Due to its special structure it is also especially absorbent.

STRETCH

Stretch material When it comes to elasticity and adaptability to one's foot there is no better material than stretch. It protects and surrounds sensitive and deformed feet and adjacent areas. Stretch always adapts to the form of the foot irrespective of their swelling or detumescence.

WONDER

Wonder This textile material may look particularly fluffy, but it is hard-wearing, washable and very easy to care for.

Sole materials

PU

PU-soles Polyurethane is made up of foam. When it is produced billions of tiny bubbles are entrapped, thus insulating the sole and cushioning your step. The surface, however, remains smooth and nonporous which allows an expert to adjust and work on it. Light but highly abrasion-resistant, polyurethanes are perfect for hardwearing shoe soles, and stand up to long-term use.

EVA

EVA-soles Ethylene-vinyl acetate (EVA) is an ultra light material that is used in our soles. In addition to its light weight, it is extremely resilient.

TR

TR-soles These are made of thermoplastic rubber, which give the soles good grip and high resistance to abrasion.

Lining materials

DIALINO

Dialino lining Velvety smooth and gentle on skin, this micro velour material is particularly suited to lining diabetic shoes. It is able to absorb a high quantity of moisture and dries out very quickly, in addition to its antibacterial properties.

TERRY CLOTH

Terrycloth lining With its loop structure and high cotton content, terrycloth is specially designed to absorb a large quantity of moisture. As well as being soft to the touch, its surface regulates temperature and has excellent wicking properties.

Antibacterial terrycloth lining Treating the lining with a silver ion coating gives it antibacterial properties. This hinders the growth of fungi and bacteria, in turn preventing any unpleasant odours.

Natural wool lining Apart from its outstanding elasticity and ability to retain its shape, wool is highly durable, breathable, and self-cleaning, thanks to its high lanolin content. It is also 100% bio-degradable. What is more, wool can absorb up to 30% of its own weight in moisture. This means that, while outside temperatures fluctuate, the wearer's feet remain comfortable.

KMT

Knit lining This lining material is particularly soft, and is therefore very comfortable to wear next to the skin. Moreover, it dries quickly and has temperature-regulating properties.

Intended Wearer

female male unisex

Varomed®
THERAPY

When should you consider wearing* Varomed® *therapy shoes?

- in combination with bandages and compresses used to treat injuries, wounds, swelling, skin irritation and/or inflammation
- following an operation to correct foot deformities
- at home, or while caring for patients
- for tender, sensitive feet
- for foot deformities

What are the benefits of* Varomed® *therapy shoes?

- large straps make them easy to open and close, even for those with limited mobility
- open either all or most of the way, making them easy to put on and take off
- Velcro straps provide infinite adjustment and grip the foot securely
- flexible fit to accommodate swelling increasing or going down
- sufficient room for bandages and footbeds
- light weight

Our therapy shoes provide the wearer's feet with both a stable platform and enough room to be comfortable. Moreover, they apply hardly any pressure on the foot due to their high adjustability. In this way, the shoes facilitate movement and alleviate pain.
Even patients recovering from wounds or edema, who must wear heavy bandages, will have enough space for their feet in the shoes.
We aim to promote mobility, prevent the accumulation of new wounds, and to support the the healing process.
For this reason, many of our therapy shoes can be washed at 30° to hygienically remove secretion from wounds and other bodily fluids. These models are marked with the machine washable symbol.
Shoes with a synthetic leather upper or natural wool lining are not washable. They can, however, be cleaned with a moist cloth or brush, lukewarm water, and a mild cleaning agent.

Varomed®
STRETCH

When should you consider wearing Varomed® stretch shoes?

- for deformations, malpositions and inflammation caused by rheumatism, arthritis and other degenerative diseases
- for diseases which cause feet to vary greatly in size throughout the day
- for hallux valgus, hallux rigidus, hammer toes, and corns
- for tender, sensitive feet

What are the benefits of Varomed® stretch shoes?

- Velcro straps provide infinite adjustment and grip the foot securely
- the sole can be made to measure by a professional
- stretchy part relieve pressure from the foot
- made to fit all shapes of feet perfectly
- enough room for customised insoles
- discretely conceal foot abnormalities

Stretchy materials in the upper bring palpable relief to the wearer. The combination of materials and the profile of these models provide stability, while alleviating pressure where it matters most. Stretch shoes continue to fit perfectly, even as swelling increases or goes down throughout the day. Pinching and blisters can be prevented. Worn in combination with orthopaedic insoles, these shoes can reduce pain and prevent unhealthy posture.

Varomed

When should you consider wearing Varomed® prophylactic shoes?

- for tender, sensitive feet
- for mild polyneuropathy
- for poor circulation

What are the benefits of Varomed® prophylactic shoes?

- protect and cup the wearer's feet, without pinching
- enough room for customised and diabetic insoles
- well-padded uppers suitable for sensitive feet
- soft Dialino lining to regulate temperature
- no internal seams, to prevent irritation

It is extremely important for sensitive feet to be protected by well-fitting footwear. This is especially true with regard to the width of the shoe in the bunion area. We use soft, durable leather as the material for the upper. To prevent pinching and empty space, the shoes contain additional padding and a Dialino lining with wicking properties. As far as physically possible, we keep seams away from the shoe's interior.

Varomed®
HEEL SPUR

When should your consider wearing the* Varomed® *heel spur system?

- as a temporary solution, while you wait for your custom heel spur insole to be made
- as a long-term solution to heel spurs and plantar fasciitis

What are the benefits of the* Varomed® *heel spur system?

- integrated system consisting of a heel spur shoe and heel spur insole
- soft padding in the sole and insole alleviates pressure in the painful heel region
- increased volume - for especially large or severely swollen feet
- insole can be adjusted to personal needs by experts
- stable sole with a large surface area

What is the Varomed heel spur system?

The Varomed heel spur system consists of a pressure-alleviating insole and a complementary shoe. Incorporated into the purpose-built heel spur insole, in the calcaneal spur area, is a soft layer of special padding.
This alleviates pressure in the painful heel region while you walk. The cork edges provide stability for the entire foot.
An integrated splay-foot truss pad relieves pressure from the metatarsal heads, activating and training the foot muscles.
The insole is covered with a layer of soft micro-velour that is gentle on skin.

The shoe's sole also has extremely soft, integrated padding in the heel region. For wearers with severe heel spurs, this ensures that the sole does not put pressure on the painful spot.

The Varomed heel spur system therefore provides two forms of pressure alleviation to heel spur sufferers.

DIABETICS

When is it essential that you switch to Varomed®diabetic shoes?

- for poor circulation, existing or healed ulcers, or other irritated areas that lead to localised pressure points
- for cases where the physiology of the foot means a custom-made, orthopaedic shoe is not yet required
- for pre-existing diabetic foot syndrome
- for polyneuropathy

What are the benefits of Varomed® diabetic shoes?

- Dialino lining, which absorbs moisture and dries out quickly, regulating the shoe's internal temperature
- wide enough to ensure the foot is not cramped, especially around the bunion area
- opens widely to make putting the shoe on more comfortable
- sole is equipped with tall edges to grip insoles tightly
- well-padded upper to protect diabetic feet
- no internal seams, to prevent irritation
- heel cap prevents sliding
- no toe cap

Diabetic feet demand particular attention. Even the mildest injuries or pinching can have grave consequences. Nerve damage can often lead to the patient hardly noticing the associated pain, or being unaware of it altogether.
Another typical consequence of diabetes is that the skin of the feet, being undersupplied with blood, does not heal properly. This can lead to further complications.
Diabetic feet therefore require special care. Diabetic footwear should have sufficient width, and the feet should be checked and tended to every day. In addition, the inside of these shoes must be designed to prevent pressure and friction on the wearer's feet. The shoe must be tall enough throughout in order to accommodate diabetic insoles.

Varomed®
LYMPH

When should you consider wearing Varomed® lymph shoes?

- in combination with compresses, where regular bandage shoes are not wide enough
- when compression garments decrease in size during treatment
- to increase mobility during decongestive lymphatic therapy

What are the benefits of Varomed® lymph shoes?

- developed in collaboration with the Földklinik, a specialist clinic for lymphology and orthopaedic shoe technology in Hinterzarten
- makes mobilisation possible at an early stage, while supporting treatment efforts
- specifically designed to protect the foot and provide stability
- easy to put on, even for patients with limited mobility
- flexible fit, to accommodate subsiding swelling
- available in single units

Lymphedema causes severe swelling in the legs, sometimes causing them to grow to twice or three times their original size. Compression therapy with bandages is an important component of treatment, along with skin care and lymph drainage. Movement also supports effective treatment of lymphedema.
But what happens when the bandaged feet no longer fit inside any shoes? Together with the Földklinik, a specialist clinic for lymphology and orthopaedic shoe technology in Hinterzarten, we have developed special lymph shoes for this express purpose. These models are designed to be extremely wide, but can nevertheless still be worn when swelling in the feet and ankles subsides.
We achieve this through a combination of stretch and micro velours, as well as elastic laces and Velcro straps.
It is especially important that the shoes be easy to put on and take off, so that they can perform their function.

Varomed®
SLIPPERS

When should you consider wearing Varomed slippers?

- when the shape of the foot makes wearing bandage shoes unnecessary
- at home, or while caring for patients

What are the benefits of Varomed slippers?

- specially designed for loose insole inserts
- loose insole inserts or ergonamically shaped fixed insole
- slip on easily

We often underestimate the amount of time we spend in our shoes at home. Especially here it is important to wear well fitting slippers. Therefore, our slippers are either ergonomically shaped or suitable for custom insoles.
There are many reasons why insoles may be prescribed. If used at an early stage, they can protect the feet and locomotor system from secondary diseases. This is why it is crucial for slippers to have enough space even for large insoles, without constricting the feet. For this purpose we have developed a collection in slightly wider width H, and with additional space for customised foot beds. The insoles lie within the outer sole, preventing them from slipping.
