„Everybody should have the possibility to wear
shoes that fit!“

Sarah Constanze Schubert

Welcome to the new Varomed catalogue

Comfort meets medical expertise

Dear customers,

Thank you very much for your interest in our products!
Since our company was established in 1959, we have been developing and manufacturing high-quality, functional specialty shoes as an owner-managed company in the Bavarian Forest – with the aim of offering appropriate solutions to people with foot problems.

Our quality policy forms the basis for our actions:

- the focus is on the needs and foot health of the users.
- We see production in Germany as a clear commitment to quality, ethics and responsibility.
- When selecting our suppliers, we pay attention to European standards, short transport routes and sustainable production.
- We prefer suppliers with a focus on animal welfare and ecological responsibility.
- We produce high-quality medical shoes that are manufactured in compliance with both legal and self-defined standards
- We rely on continuous improvement and innovative ways of thinking to remain future-proof as a company.
- Our team is qualified, committed and valued.

For many years, we have been working closely with specialists from orthopaedics, medical centres, nursing care and the medical supplies trade. Feedback from the real world flows into our product development. Numerous Varomed models are listed in the German Medical Technical Aids Register and can be prescribed by a doctor.

Mobility means quality of life. This is exactly what this catalogue stands for – with over 65 years of experience, regional craftsmanship and a passion for combining function and aesthetics.

A product is only as good as its service – my team and I are fully committed to ensuring this. We hope you enjoy browsing and discovering our products!

Kind regards,

Sarah Constanze Schubert
Managing Director of Florett GmbH

Varomed shoes with a technical medical aid number

Medical care with comfort

We are a certified manufacturer of medical devices according to the requirements of the EU Medical Device Regulation (MDR). Many of our models meet the requirements for medical care and are reimbursable under national health systems in various countries, for example in Germany via the Technical Medical Aids Register or in France as a CHUT product.

The reimbursability depends on the respective national regulations. Marked items in our range are registered accordingly and provide verified quality, high wearing comfort and medical benefits.

Legend

CE mark

The CE mark states that this product has been checked for the special requirements for medical products and conforms with them. We certify this with our declaration of conformity according to the MDR.

Suitable for personal inlays

Nearly all of our shoes are suitable for your personal inlays.

Boots

Safe and comfortable for winter weather

warm lining

This shoe has a lining made of lamb's wool or new wool which makes it especially warm and comfortable.

1 cm more toe height

These shoes are particularly broad and offer 1 cm more space in the toe area than our usual bandage and therapy shoes.

water-repellent

We don't leave you in the lurch when it starts to rain! When you see this sign you are selecting a shoe with water-repellent properties.

Unisex model

Women's model

Men's model

Bandage and therapy shoes

Plenty of space in widths L and R

Stretch shoes

pressure relief on sensitive areas

Prophylaxis shoes

Kind to tender feet

Diabetic shoes

Designed to meet the requirements of diabetics

House slippers

Optimum comfort for wearing at home

Washable

Take out the insole before washing and carefully close all fasteners. Put the shoes into a laundry bag or a pillowcase.

Select the delicates cycle with the lowest possible spin number and use our Varomed functional detergent for shoes.

In order to dry the shoes, we recommend stuffing them with kitchen paper and letting them dry gently. Make sure the shoes are not exposed to a direct heat source such as a radiator, oven or a chimney.

Varotex-Membrane

For warm and dry feet in winter: water-repellent, wind-proof and breathable membrane.

Materials used

Upper Materials

Microvelour

Soft, durable and easy to clean. Many years proven service in shoes. Offers all the properties of textiles - washable and velour appearance.

Velcro velour

The little loops ensure that the tiny hooks copied from nature cling to the material and make it possible for the shoe to meet a range of shape requirements. Our classic, soft, low maintenance and washable.

Stretch material

We are using high-quality stretch materials in the health-care sector for more than 25 years. They provide the flexibility which is particularly needed in the area of the forefoot.

Mesh material

Sporty mesh-type fabric made of PET – very breathable, crease and tear resistant, washable and quick-drying.

Leather

Leather in the form of a high-quality natural product manufactured in Europe, selected from suppliers we trust for their attention to animal health and welfare.

Imitation leather

Tough, wipeable upper material, resistant to stains and damp. Offers advantages compared with purely textile materials, particularly outdoors.

Lining Material

Jersey lining

Quick-drying, climate-regulating and soft, with antimicrobial functional features thanks to silver ions.

Woolen lining – pure new wool /Lamb's woolen lining

Can absorb up to 30 % of its own weight in moisture. The new wool was obtained considering animal welfare and is certified according to RWS (Responsible Wool Standard). Snug, warm and fluffy but very functional. Wool is extremely durable, breathable and self-cleaning due to its high lanolin content.

Terry cloth lining with antimicrobial functional features thanks to silver ions

The surface is pleasant for the skin and has a heat- and moisture-regulating effect. This washable material with a high cotton content gently molds itself to the shape of the foot and can absorb a large amount of moisture if necessary.

Silver piqué lining

This antimicrobial lining with silver ions ensures that our stretch materials fit snugly. Cooling/warming as required and soft.

Lycra

The elastic lining that keeps its shape permanently and feels light and smooth when worn.

Dialino lining

A special lining for ultra-sensitive feet. Absorbs moisture quickly, dries rapidly and with a surprisingly skin-like feeling.

The fit

The lasts that give our shoes their fit are the result of many years of experience and careful development. In close collaboration with orthopaedic surgeons and last experts, we have designed them to meet the special requirements of sensitive and stressed feet. For a shoe to fit well, it is not only the length that is important, but also the right width. Our models therefore take different foot shapes into account and provide sufficient space without losing support.

It is particularly important to us that individual insoles, for example orthopaedic or diabetic soft foam insoles, can be inserted without any problems. The contact surface inside the shoe is deliberately designed to be flat to avoid pressure points. In addition, the upper's eight-millimetre immersion depth into the sole ensures that the insole is firmly in place. This ensures that the shoes grip the foot firmly and are very comfortable to wear in everyday life.

The sole

To ensure that patients with reduced mobility can stand and walk safely, we have designed the tread area to be as wide as necessary. Because of the materials used, the soles are not only very light, but are also easy for a specialist to adjust, i.e. to adapt them to your personal needs.

The fasteners

Our models offer different types of fastener for good support and easy handling. Velcro fasteners allow for quick adjustment, straps with eyelets distribute the tension particularly evenly, while straps without eyelets make it easier to put the shoes on. Zips are perfect for those with limited mobility.

Widths

The perfect fit of shoes depends on two important factors. In addition to the correct length, the right width is vital so that the foot neither moves around in the shoe nor is cramped.

Shoe width is indicated by letters: The further the letter is from the beginning of the alphabet, the wider the shoe.

Standard width
for average feet

bandage shoe width
for very severely swollen or bandaged feet

comfortable width
for strong or slightly swollen feet

special width
for very thick bandages or lymphedema patients

overwidth
for very strong or severely swollen feet

Widths overview - Diabetic shoes

For the best possible care of diabetic feet, our diabetic shoes have a well thought-out width system.

Diabetic width H - narrow feet with a soft foam or diabetic insole.

DIA H - single-width model

- Suitable for insoles up to 10 mm thick
- Last height: 4 cm (measured at 1.5 cm from the insole tip)

Diabetic widths K & L - normal feet

Shoe width corresponds to the regular width L. When used with a soft foam or diabetic insole for normal feet. One last, full flexibility. Width K when the enclosed insole is added, otherwise width L.

DIA K/L - two-width model

- Last height: 4.6 cm (measured at 1.5 cm from the insole tip)
- Basic features: 3 mm-thick removable intermediate insole
- Width K with intermediate insole suitable for insoles up to 14 mm thick
- Width L without using the intermediate insole for insoles up to 16 mm thick

How to measure correctly

Define the shape

When defining the shape, please look at the first two digits of the article number.

If the number is 60920 for instance, please use the table for shape 60. Measure the bare foot while standing.

Measuring the length of the foot

- Place your foot with your heel against a vertical surface (e.g. a wall or the spine of a book)
- Draw the outline on a sheet of paper (Hold pencil upright; ensure even weight on entire foot.)
- Measure from the heel to the end of the foot
- Add 5 - 7 mm and select the next higher size in the row headed "length" in the table

Measuring the volume of the foot

- Place the tape measure loosely round the widest part of the foot
- Look for the measurement in the row headed "girth" in the table
- If the figure is between two sizes, select the next higher size

Bandage and therapy shoes

A space miracle for injured feet

Advantages

Varomed bandage shoes offer patients the opportunity to protect their feet and maintain or restore their mobility.

- large capacity for compresses and dressings, even for severely swollen feet.
- wide/complete opening options to make it easy to put the shoes on.
- practical fastener solutions, continuous width adjustment due to Velcro fasteners with large pull tabs for easy handling.
- closed models grip the foot firmly and provide good heel guidance, thanks to the shaped heel cap.
- suitable for outdoor use.
- outsoles can be roughed up and are orthopaedically adjustable.
- extra-wide, safe tread surface.

Indications

1. Impairment of mobility (walking) in the case of damage to the skin and sub-cutaneous tissue during a few weeks or a longer period of a conservative or post-operative treatment of wounds with large, possibly padded dressings, where the healing process allows your foot to at least partially bear your weight when walking.
2. To enable and maintain an adequate walking function.

That makes all the difference

bandage shoe width L

A space miracle for injured feet

The models in width L are characterized by a lot of volume for swollen and bandaged feet. They are spacious and perfect for situations when your shoes should not be too tight or constricting.

special width R

1 cm more toe height

Our XXL models are particularly wide and provide 1 cm more space in the toe area than our shoes in width L. This makes them ideal for very thick bandages or lymphoedema patients.

Stretch shoes

A blessing for sensitive feet

Advantages

Varomed stretch shoes help to relieve foot pain and thus support natural movement, which can reduce postures that are assumed to relieve pain and the damage caused by these.

- soft, adaptable materials to relieve pressure-sensitive feet in the right places.
- flexibly adjustable as feet swell and shrink throughout the day.
- wide tread surface for safe walking.
- heel cap with a stable shape for good heel guidance.
- large pull tabs and/or eyelets for easy handling.
- outsoles can be roughed up and are orthopaedically adjustable.

Indications

1. deformations, malposition and inflammation as a result of rheumatism, arthrosis and other degenerative diseases.
2. Systemic disorders (e.g. lymphatic, vascular and hormonal) which cause the feet to increase and decrease in size during the day.
3. hallux valgus, hallux rigidus, hammer toes, corns, toe and foot malposition, swollen feet and lymphedema.
4. tender and sensitive feet.

Diabetic shoes

A must-have for diabetic feet

Advantages

Varomed diabetic shoes are specially designed for the diabetic foot.

- anatomically shaped, large-volume shoe lasts in the forefoot and toe area
- padded, almost seamless upper with soft, quick-drying Dialino lining that absorbs moisture and protects your feet against friction
- outsoles have very high edges to keep orthopaedic insoles stable and to prevent them from slipping in the shoe
- firm heel cap that positions the foot well in the shoe
- handy fastener solution and wide-opening entry
- padded upper edge

Indications

1. Proven diabetic foot syndrome after a healed foot ulcer to prevent ulcer recurrence.
2. High risk of developing a foot ulcer:
 - in the event of diabetic foot syndrome, to avoid dorsal ulcers if the toe height is insufficient in a ready-made/comfort shoe that fits the insole, e.g. in the case of pronounced claw or hammer toes. The shoes are supplied in pairs.
 - in the case of abnormal calluses with bleeding in the sense of a pre-ulcerative lesion
 - if there is loss of protective sensation in the feet or peripheral arterial occlusive disease (PAOD) of the lower extremities and at least one of the following:
 - terminal renal failure
 - toe or partial foot amputations

Special shoes for diabetic foot syndrome are used to prevent ulcer recurrences and for prophylaxis in cases in which there is a high risk of developing foot ulcers. They are not suitable for treating an existing diabetic foot ulcer.

Prophylaxis shoes

A guardian angel for demanding feet

Advantages

Varomed prophylactic shoes protect sensitive and pressure-sensitive feet.

- interior made of soft materials that optimally protect feet from friction
- virtually seamless lining that absorbs moisture very well
- generous last width, suitable for orthopaedic insoles up to 10 mm
- comfortable toe and ball freedom
- dimensionally stable outsole with a wide tread area

Indications

1. diabetes as long as no diabetic foot syndrome (DFS) has been diagnosed
2. diabetes with slight foot deformities which require e. g. inlays, however without diabetic foot syndrome - the treating doctor's and executing professionals' opinions are decisive
3. circulatory problems as long as a diabetic foot syndrome can be excluded
4. polyneuropathy with slight symptoms as long as a diabetic foot syndrome can be excluded
5. slight foot deformities
6. pressure sensitivity with or without concomitant inflammation

Boots

Reliable companion during rain, ice and snow

The perfect companion for the uncomfortable season. Wet and cold feet are a thing of the past in these models. Even road salt edges can be removed without problems from the low-maintenance microvelour.

Thanks to the use of special membranes, our winter boots are waterresistant, windproof and breathable and additionally have TPU inserts with beneficial anti-slip properties.

Real lamb's wool or pure new wool keep the feet especially warm without making them sweat. Simply a special and safe footstep feeling for the winter season.

- water-resistant, windproof and breathable Varomed functional membrane
- soft and cuddly climate-regulating lamb's wool or new wool lining
- tried and tested fits

TPU-inserts

make our shoes fit for ice and snow.
